MODUMAXX X-BASE

ModuForm's unique and secure ModuMaxx X-Base table was designed and engineered to withstand constant use in unpredictable environments. The base is rotationally molded and manufactured using linear low-density polyethylene. This impact resistant material will withstand kicking, fluids, scratching and other general abuse.

Additional weight can easily be added through a concealed and tamper proof port. Its seamless construction make cleaning easy as mild detergents, commercial disinfectants, steam and bleach-based agents can be used to aid in the prevention of blood borne pathogens and viruses.

When personal space, durability, safety and cleanliness are needed, the ModuMaxx X-Base offers the essential features and construction to outlast erratic behaviors and the everyday requirements found in intensive use environments.
