LET'S TALK.

Communication. It's essential for success no matter what field you work in - from healthcare to business to education. And now there's a simple way to make sure messages are sent, received, and understood by everyone who needs to see them.

Say hello to the InfoBoard™. This clever dry-erase board can be posted wherever people need to exchange information. Add durable, subsurface graphics to promote your brand or create a custom template for people to fill in.

- A dry erase board gives people an intuitive place to write or check messages.
- Subsurface-printed graphics ensure durability.
- An anodized marker holder keeps writing tools close at hand.
- Custom templates help people fill in the blanks or let you promote your brand.

Where does the InfoBoard™ belong?

- In healthcare to keep staff and visitors informed, enhancing patient perceptions of the experience.
- In the office to track people's comings and goings, update sales data, and keep everyone on the same page.
- In schools to record homework assignments, post daily activities, or tally competitions.
- In financial institutions to display changing rates while promoting your brand.
